

The Case Research Foundation and the North American Case Research Association (NACRA)
are pleased to announce the 2023

PAUL R. LAWRENCE FELLOWSHIPS

■ Who are the Fellowships for?

Early-career academics interested in developing their skills in case teaching, research, and writing.

■ Who is eligible for the Fellowship?

Doctoral students and faculty in their first three years of a tenure track appointment (2023–24 is counted as year three) in business and related disciplines (or its equivalent at institutions that do not offer tenure). Only citizens or residents of the United States, citizens of Canada, or others with a visa or visa waiver to enter the United States that will be valid in October 2023, are eligible to apply for a 2023 fellowship. The reason is exceptionally long delays in processing visas for foreign scholars to enter the United States. (This policy will be re-assessed for the 2024 fellowship program.)

■ What's included?

A stipend to support travel to, lodging and incidentals at, and registration fees to attend the North American Case Research Association annual meeting. The stipend is intended to cover all or most necessary expenses.

■ Where and when?

This year's annual meeting will be held at the Hyatt Regency Hotel, San Antonio, Texas, USA, on October 5–7, 2023. Activities will begin on the morning of October 5 and conclude mid-day on October 7, Central Standard Time (USA).

■ What activities are planned for the Fellows?

The conference will provide special programming for the Fellows, providing an intensive introduction to case teaching, research, and writing. The Fellows will be paired with senior academic mentors and invited to attend all conference sessions and activities.

■ How can a Paul R. Lawrence Fellowship help me?

It can help you hone your professional skills as a classroom teacher of cases and author of publishable peer-reviewed teaching cases. You will have an opportunity to network with others in the broader case research community. You will be honored by receiving a competitively-awarded Fellowship.

■ What is the deadline for applying?

April 3, 2023.

■ How will applications be evaluated?

Applications will be evaluated by a committee made up of members of the board of the Case Research Foundation, a nonprofit public benefit corporation affiliated with NACRA.

■ What criteria will be used?

Applications will be evaluated based on the applicant's interest in and commitment to the case method; his or her likelihood to benefit as judged by prior academic performance, professional accomplishments, and letters of recommendation; and his or her ability and willingness to attend the annual NACRA meeting.
